

The TROJAN WOMEN

by Euripides

First performed in 415 BC, the dramatist looks at the effect of war through women's eyes as they wait to be carried off into slavery by the victorious Greeks.

Sadly, although the Play was written two and a half thousand years ago, women are still being abused and enslaved in acts of war and men, women and children trafficked into modern slavery.

This Production is dedicated to them.

19, 20, 21 & 23 Nov 2019
in Holy Trinity Church

Tickets £12 available online (bkg fee) at www.ticketsource.co.uk/TrinityPlayersStratford